

The Telephone Privacy law in Indiana has been a tremendous success. The number of unsolicited calls to my household phone has been reduced by approximately 90% since its introduction. I understand the FCC is considering a proposal that could diminish that protection. Please do not preempt Indiana's successful state law.